ABOUT FULFILLMENT FUND

The Fulfillment Fund is a life-changing college access and success organization that helps make college a reality for first-generation and lower-income Los Angeles students.

Fulfillment Fund helps thousands of lower-income and first-generation students build pathways to college, navigate educational barriers, create invaluable support networks, and find empowerment.

Through time-tested programs, including one-on-one college counseling, classroom instruction, mentorship, scholarships, career resources, and much more, the Fulfillment Fund empowers its students to graduate high school, get into college, and earn their degree.

Everything Fulfillment Fund does comes down to one powerful vision: That all students, regardless of their circumstances, will one day have the opportunity to attend college, graduate and actively participate in transforming their communities to create a better society.

84% of Fulfillment Fund’s high school students’ parents did not graduate from college, which means their children are the first in their families to earn a four-year degree.

87% of Fulfillment Fund high school students come from low-income households.

OUR IMPACT

Every dollar makes a difference. This year, Fulfillment Fund is working to empower nearly 3,000 young people a year to graduate from high school, get into college, and earn a degree.

94% of Fulfillment Fund’s high school graduates enrolled in college and 90% earn their degree
80% of U.S. students aspire to earn a bachelor’s degree, yet only 43% of LAUSD graduates enroll.

Those with a college degree earn $1 million over their lifetimes versus those without ones.
